ABOUT ME

I aspire to be original, innovative, and have a love for creating a variety of projects. I don't believe in limiting yourself to just one specialty, but have diversity in anything you have a passion for.

If I had to narrow down what motivates me the most about being creative, it's always learning something new, a risk taker, challenge myself, experiment and try my hand at anything once to see if I'm good at it or never want to do it again.

I do, however, like most anything by hand, whether it's drawing, doodling, sketching out an idea and bring it to life digitally, coming up with a cool logo design or whatever peaks my interest.
